You are fabulous.	Don’t count the days. Make the days count.	Good things come to those who hustle.
If you have a bad thought about yourself today, let it go to hell cause that’s where it came from.	You will get there but only if you keep going.	You have the potential to make beautiful things.
You are so much more than what they convinced you to believe.	You create your own opportunities.	One day can change everything.
Optimism is the foundation of courage.	Don’t ruin a good day by thinking about a bad yesterday.	You overcame your past so you can conquer your future.
If you don’t build your dreams someone will hire you to build theirs.	Amazing things will happen.	It will get better.
Today is the perfect day to love yourself.	You are doing your best and that’s always enough.	Talk yourself happy today.
Exist to be happy not to impress.	If you can’t stop thinking about it, don’t stop working on it.	The world can be changed by your example.
Throw kindness around like confetti.	Whether or not you realize it, you have made a difference.
